

"If you want to go quickly, go alone. If you want to go far, go together." This quote perfectly represents Stephanie's leadership of our Supply Chain Management Team.

As the Practice Manager for RPI Consultants' Supply Chain Management Team, Stephanie Kowal's responsibility is to hire and train the best and most knowledgeable people who share her passion for customer service and improving their clients' lives. "Throughout my life I've been blessed to know great leaders who encouraged me to be a better version of myself," Stephanie says. "I do the same for our team; we're always striving to improve."

Helping Clients Become More Productive

For Stephanie, it's vital that her team members make an impact on their client's work day and ease frustrations over the issue they are there to solve. "It could be as simple as showing them a form they never knew about or as complicated as developing a new report that could really change how they manage information," she notes. "Our goal is to make their lives easier and their jobs more productive."

Background & Experiences

Stephanie graduated with a Bachelor's in Communications from Westfield State University in Massachusetts. She is Certified in Lawson Supply Chain, but even more valuable to her role is her experience as an end user of Infor/Lawson, gained from working in supply chain for Baystate Health System. "I worked in this multi-hospital organization handling the same issues and facing the same challenges our clients face," Stephanie explains. "This is invaluable perspective in finding custom solutions to solve their challenges and optimize how they use their Lawson supply chain software systems."

Downtime Pursuits

Stephanie, along with her husband Brent and black lab mix, Duke, enjoy spending time cooking, traveling, hiking, or just hanging out on the back deck. "I really relax listening to music," Stephanie adds, "I have been listening to a growing vinyl collection, which started with my parents old albums. Listening to them now always brightens my day!"
