

For Adam, it's NEVER acceptable to have a one-size-fits-all approach to business.

RPI Senior Technical Architect

Adam Kinney

Ask Adam Kinney to explain what he likes most about being part of RPI Consultants, and he will use words like unique, diverse, distinct, and special to describe the team. "I really enjoy the culture at RPI. There are so many talents and skills represented," Adam says, "So many view points and perspectives, too. I like that we all look at problems differently, that's how you find the best possible solution."

Background and Experiences

Adam earned a Bachelor of Arts in Management Information Systems from the University of Iowa. He went on to join Lexmark Enterprise Software in 2010, where he served as a Lead Upgrade and Installation Consultant. Adam developed his expertise with Perceptive Software's ECM and OCR products and solutions, including ImageNow and Kofax. He is able to easily translate between technical and business concepts, and specializes in new installs and upgrades of ECM products and platforms.

A Wealth of Knowledge

Adam also has an extensive background in designing server architecture, as well as bringing extensive knowledge of Datatel, PeopleSoft, SAP, and Microsoft Dynamics. This experience makes him particularly valuable as a Senior Technical Architect. "Whether helping my clients with an installation or upgrade, I am going to go the extra mile to truly understand their needs and goals," he explains. "One size never fits all!"
